

Apparent Attempt To Assassinate Truman

American Armor Puts To Rout Reds In Northwest Korea

Counter Thrusts Of Foe Repulsed Near To Border Of Manchuria

By The Associated Press
SEOUL, Nov. 1.—(P)—American armor rammed roughshod over rallying Reds in northwest Korea today and thrust within 19 air miles of the Communist Manchurian border.

Overhead, Russian-built jet fighters, flying at almost the speed of sound, were battled to a draw by slower U. S. Mustangs. Apparently neither side lost any planes in the dogfight, a spokesman said.

The swift ground thrust to Charyongwan by a tank column of the U. S. 24th division came after fierce Communist counterattacks along the Chong river were repulsed Tuesday night.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters said the column was pushing toward the Yalu river boundary city of Sinuiju against lessening resistance. Sinuiju is across the Yalu from Antung, big Chinese Red airbase in Manchuria.

Earlier Wednesday, three Russian-made Yak planes were shot down by U. S. F-51 Mustang fighters and a B-26 light bomber. The fighters got two, the bomber one.

One American F-80 jet fighter was downed by Red anti-aircraft fire.

Red Korean resistance elsewhere on the 250-mile peninsula front was stiff and getting stiffer.

Cavalry Into Action
A U. S. First Corps spokesman reported a tank-led Communist column launched northwest of Unsan to relieve the hard pressed ROK Eighth division.

Among the Reds reported punching southward were some 1,000 horsemen.

Red Korean resistance along most of the northern battlefield was stiff. Communist cavalry swept down on allied forces.

Cavalry had not been used to any extent earlier in the war. The Red Koreans who invaded South Korea June 25 were equipped with Russian-made tanks, field pieces and automatic weapons.

The use of cavalry in the Orient harks back to the Mongolian hordes that swept across the Asian plains centuries ago.

A second Chinese Red regiment officially was reported in action in Korea. U. S. 10th Corps Headquarters said the regiment had been identified in northeast Korea.

Aerial Scrap Started
The biggest aerial scrap since the first weeks of the war started Wednesday morning five miles southeast of the Manchurian border city of Sinuiju.

Flying through smoke-streaked skies, American F-51 Mustang fighters rescued an unarmed T-6 observation plane from six Russian-built Yak fighters. Four of the Mustangs shot down two of the Yaks, without a loss.

A rear gunner in a B-26 bomber shot down one of two other Yaks that jumped four of the light bombers west of Sonchon.

Killed 10,459 Communists
SEOUL, Nov. 1.—(P)—Home Minister Chough Pyong Ok said today Republic of Korea (ROK) police had killed 10,459 Communist troops and captured 10,384 since June 25.

This was exclusive of Reds killed by ROK and United Nations troops in the Korean war.

Chough estimated 50,000 Communist guerrillas are scattered through 19 South Korean pockets.

Death To 28 In Crash of Plane

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(P)—A Paris-to-London air trip ended in death last night for 28 persons, including three residents of the United States.

They were killed in a fog-shrouded British European Airways plane which overshot a runway at London airport, crashed into a pile of pipe and exploded.

Parade and Party Given by The Lion's Club

More than 500 young Sedalians celebrated Hallowe'en in a spirited but undestructive manner Tuesday night by attending the annual Lion's club party and parade.

The parade, which initiated the ceremonies, started at the Public Library, went down Third street to Ohio, up the main thoroughfare to Broadway, and east on Broadway to the high school.

A police squad car serving as the official vehicle for Mayor Herb Studer led the parade, followed by a fire engine, and the merry-makers dressed in their various costumes.

The parade was marshalled by the Sedalia police with the assistance of American Legion Post No. 16 members, and traffic-control officials of the Lion's club.

Once the parade participants had entered the high school auditorium the party began in earnest. Here the winners of the contests held:

APPLE BOBBING (first and second grades):
1. Robert Shackler.
2. Dale Herrick.

APPLE BOBBING (third and fourth grades):

Anna Lee Harvey Chosen To National 4-H Congress

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 1.—Six Missouri 4-H club members have been named to represent their state at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 26-30.

They are: Alice Wright of Chillicothe in Livingston county; Gerald Wright, of Albany, in Gentry county; Frances Ann Richards, of Jameson, in Davies county; Jack Whitesell, of Eldorado Springs, in Cedar county; Shirley Peterman, of Miami, in Saline county; and Anna Lee Harvey, of Sedalia, in Pettis county.

These boys and girls are part of the Missouri delegation of 27 state winners who will be competing for national scholarships from every other state in the nation.

Ten-Year Member
Miss Harvey, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harvey, route 3, Sedalia, of Walnut Grove club near Sedalia is a ten-year club member. Since first taking an interest in group recreation in 1943, she has served her club as game and song leader for four years, served as a junior project leader three years, and as a project leader two years. Anna Lee this year served as county council recreation leader and had complete charge of the recrea-

Farmer Blasts Off Part of Skull

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 1.—(P)—A 25-year-old Christian county farmer accidentally shot himself in the head last night, blasting away a piece of skull in the center of his forehead, and yet was still alive—and conscious part of the time—in a hospital here today.

The man is Donald Zoller, who lives with his father Chris Zoller, on a farm near Billings, about 20 miles southeast of here.

Prankster Is Shot in Arm

Harold D. Yancey Is Treated At Bothwell Hospital

A Hallowe'en prankster at Hughesville, Harold Dean Yancey, 17, was wounded in a near tragedy at the John Stanton farm when he and a group of fifteen youth tried to tow away a large trailer belonging to Stanton. He was shot in the right forearm about midnight, Tuesday night.

Shortly after the shooting, Mr. Stanton drove into Sedalia and went to police headquarters, where he gave his version of the incident. According to the report given the police a group of boys came to his place and tried to get the trailer.

At that time he told the officers he went out of his home and ordered them to leave and not to disturb the trailer. When they stood around he fired a gun into the air and the boys left. About midnight the same group with an addition of several more bringing the gang to a total of fifteen boys returned.

He reported he went out and ordered them away again and when they refused he states he fired the gun into the ground. However, he reported, he thought one youth had been hit. After giving this report Mr. Stanton was referred to the sheriff.

Yancey, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Yancey, route one, La Monte, which is west of Hughesville, was brought to the bothwell hospital by E. B. Martin, of Hughesville, who was awakened at his home by the boys and who asked him to bring the youth to Sedalia. Six of the boys accompanied Yancey there along with Mr. Martin.

The bullet, of .22 calibre, entered the arm just below the elbow as the back of the forearm, ranged through the fleshy part of the arm and up and emerged at the forearm behind the thumb. The wound is not serious. He was treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Nov. 1.—(P)—Volunteers were requested today to patrol a smoldering brush and timber fire that has burned over hundreds of acres in Ralls county near the Mississippi river since Sunday.

The fire appeared to be under control this morning, but fire-fighters feared a new outbreak because of a brisk wind.

The fire burned over a seven-mile strip between the Ralls county villages of Saverton and Busch. Estimator of the size of the burned over area ranged from 1,400 to 2,000 acres.

Weather to be More Seasonal
By The Associated Press
Normally grey November was busting out all over in sunshine and warmth over much of the nation today, making a first-day run with a late-October heat wave.

But nature's elements appeared ready to slap a cool hand on the autumnal hot belt, which extended over the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

Heat records for the date were shattered again yesterday in scores of cities. Temperatures soared into the 80's. The only areas having near seasonal readings were the Pacific Northwest and the Central Rockies and the Northern Plains.

Rain To End Fires Is Need

Blazes Over Vast Acreage In The Forests In The State Raging

By The Associated Press

If it doesn't rain pretty soon this may turn out to be the worst fall forest fire season Missouri ever had.

It's already one of the worst. State Forester George O. White of the State Conservation Commission reported today the fire hazard is extremely high throughout the state.

Many small fires and at least two big ones were burning today outside of organized fire protection districts, he said. Any of them could become dangerous if the wind spreads the flames out of control.

One in the northwest corner of Phelps county has burned over a big area in the last few days.

Another in Laclede and Dallas counties threatens Bennett Spring state park.

A third big one in Ralls county near the Mississippi river apparently was under control today. National Guard officers who checked it this morning told Gov. Smith they saw no need to call out guard units to fight this blaze.

Appeal To Smokers
White appealed to smokers not to throw lit cigarettes away in wooded areas. And no one should try to burn leaves and trash on a dry windy day like today. The blaze can easily get out of hand.

White said there had been many small fires in the organized fire inspection districts of the Ozarks. All were minor except a blaze in southern Franklin county which burned over about 500 acres.

Foresters have been able to keep them under control by their aerial and fire tower patrol work. When a blaze breaks out, tank equipped trucks are sent to the scene by radio.

White said most of this fall's fires have been caused by careless burning of debris. Cigarettes have caused some and others have been set deliberately by incendiaries.

LEBANON, Mo., Nov. 1.—(P)—Forest fires were raging in western Laclede county and eastern Dallas county today.

The flames were threatening Bennett Springs State park.

Fires broke out Monday, then roared beyond control on yesterday's strong wind. By last night they had seared an estimated 5,000 acres.

James Mills of Lebanon flew over the area yesterday afternoon and reported he saw seven fires ranged along a 10-mile line, east to west, south of highway 64.

Arthur Pugh, Laclede county conservation agent, said he believed the fires had been set deliberately.

Hope To Save Fingers Of Duane Ewing

Duane Ewing, of the Ewing Funeral Home, who suffered a severe injury to his left hand Monday, when it became caught in a piece of machinery on his farm, near Green Ridge, went to St. Luke's hospital, Kansas City today, where he remained as a patient.

Mr. Ewing was accompanied by Mrs. Ewing and Dr. E. L. Rhodes, and the hand was examined by Dr. Rex L. Diveley, a specialist. The physicians are hoping to save the fingers, and it was decided to have Mr. Ewing remain in the Kansas City hospital until a decision as to whether amputation of part of the hand is necessary, is made. Mrs. Ewing remained in Kansas City with him.

Jaycees Plan A Big Parade

Committee on Christmas Met Tuesday Night

The Christmas committee of the Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night at the chamber office. John E. Carroll, chairman of the Christmas activities committee appointed chairmen and committees for the various phases of planning the parade. It was announced that the Junior Chamber has secured the Hammond Christmas Parade for a performance in Sedalia at 2 p. m.—Friday, December 1. Mr. Hammond is in his nineteenth year of continuous operation and has thrilled hundreds of thousands of spectators in major cities all over America with his extravaganzas. He promises something new and entirely different from anything ever viewed in Sedalia in the past.

The attractions will include a Santa Claus float pulled by live reindeer; an eskimo sled pulled by trained eskimo dog team. A beautiful scene depicting the birth of Christ will include a live camel and costumed figures to represent the characters in the drama. Over ninety costumed characters in all will appear among the many floats which will be pulled by trained midget mules.

It was announced that invitations are being mailed to all businesses and industries in Sedalia to enter floats to represent the city in the parade. The Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce has pledged that everything possible will be provided to assure a wonderful thrill for all the kiddies and their parents as well.

Six Day Week For FBI Employees
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(P)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has put its 10,000 employees over the country on a full six-day week.

It is the first government agency to abandon the 40-hour weekly work schedule which has been in effect since the end of World War II.

Bureau officials said an accumulation of work in the fields of intelligence, preparedness and defense made the six days instead of five days per week, for which overtime will be paid, was made effective this week in headquarters here and field offices throughout the country.

Nine Dead and Two Reported Missing
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(P)—The defense department today reported nine men killed and two missing in action in the Korean area. The casualty list (No. 140) was one of the smallest of the Korean war.

Gunmen Stage Wild Shooting In Front Of The Blair House

Bandits in Pantry Raid Take Jewels

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—(P)—Four young bandits wearing Hallowe'en masks raided a dinner party last night and escaped with jewelry valued at $12,500.

Louis Blond, 59, owner of a jewelry store, his wife and four guests had just seated themselves for dinner when the robbers, armed with revolvers, entered the back door.

Two servants were forced to lie on the floor. One bandit picked up a serving plate and ordered the diners to put their jewelry on it. The men fled after ripping out the telephone.

Term of Lie Is Extended By UN Assembly
Retention Voted By That Body For Three Year Term

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(P)—The U. N. General Assembly today extended Secretary-General Trygve Lie's term for three more years despite a Soviet bloc threat not to deal with him.

By a vote of 46 to 5 with 7 abstentions, the assembly supported the United States position that Lie should be kept in office as an expression of confidence for the way he handled the Korean case.

Before keeping Lie in the $40,000-a-year job the assembly rejected a Soviet resolution to toss the matter back to the Security Council which had failed to agree on a candidate after a month of consideration. The vote on the Russian proposal was 9 in favor, 37 against and 11 abstaining.

An Iraq resolution to refer the issue to a seven-member committee for a two-week study also was rejected. The vote on this was 15 for, 37 against, and 7 abstaining.

Ends Long Debate
The assembly action came after a day and a half of debate. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky led the Russian bloc's opposition to Lie charging that the Norwegian was a stooge of the American State Department.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin declared the assembly could not allow Russia to punish Lie because the secretary general had supported the U. N. action against the North Koreans.

Vishinsky resumed his fight against Lie this morning, even though it had become apparent by the tone of the debate that the Norwegian had enough backing to be retained.

Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam of Iran suggested that the members vote by secret ballot on the extension resolution but said this could not be done if any delegation objected. Chile objected, and the vote was by a show of hands.

Heavy Fusillade
Archie B. Davis, who saw the shooting, said a "regular fusillade" of shots was fired—somewhere between eight and 12 in a matter of seconds.

Davis said one of the gunmen was hit as he ran away from the Blair House toward the west.

The president was surrounded by Secret Service men holding sub-machine guns when he left the executive residence after the shooting. His car was followed by a second automobile, filled with police. Other policemen on motorcycles led and flanked the presidential car.

Mr. Truman returned to the White House proper from Arlington cemetery at 3:35 p. m. He entered from the south, without driving past the scene of the shooting.

At least four shots ripped into the Blair House itself. A window at almost street level on the east side of the mansion's steps was shattered by three bullets.

A fourth shot lodged next to the Blair House.

Picketer Gives Up After Shooting
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(P)—Mrs. Eola Wright, who has been picketing the White House since Sept. 14, gave up today after the shooting across the street at the Blair House.

Mrs. Wright claims her civil rights have been taken from her unfairly, and the placard she carried said she wants them back. She lives in Washington.

One Civilian is Killed, Other Wounded, and Three Of White House Guards Shot This Afternoon

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Oscar Collazo, a 36-year-old polisher who was shot outside President's residence today, was identified by his wife here as a member of the Revolutionary Puerto Rican Nationalist party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Two men with blazing German luger pistols rushed President Truman's home today in an apparent attempt to assassinate the president.

They were shot down in a furious gun battle outside. One was killed. Three members of the president's guard detail were wounded.

Mr. Truman was in the presidential residence, the Blair House, when the shootings occurred about 2:15 p. m. (EST), a few minutes before he was to leave for a ceremony at Arlington National Cemetery.

Police Inspector Hobart Francis told reporters: "I presume it was an attempt to assassinate the president."

The rattling outburst of gunfire came without warning on a quiet, sunny afternoon in front of the yellow brick house which the president and his family are occupying while the White House, across the street, is undergoing repairs.

First eye witness accounts said one of the gunmen charged across broad Pennsylvania avenue toward Blair House and the other came from a corner west of the temporary executive mansion. Both were shooting as they ran.

White House guards immediately returned the gunmen's fire. One of the men was shot down on the canopied steps of Blair House. He fell with blood spurting from a chest wound. The other likewise crumpled under a volley of bullets.

The scene immediately became one of wild confusion. Police cars rushed to the scene with sirens screaming. A crowd gathered. Secret Service men threw a guard around the immediate area.

President Truman peered out briefly at the hubbub. He left the Blair House a half hour after the shooting, through the rear entrance and under heavy guard, for the Arlington cemetery.

White House police said the gunmen carried papers identifying them tentatively as Marion R. Preston, dead, and Oscar Olskin, seriously wounded through the head and chest.

Red China and India Talk Plans for an 'Asian UN'

By Leon Dennen
NEA Staff Correspondent

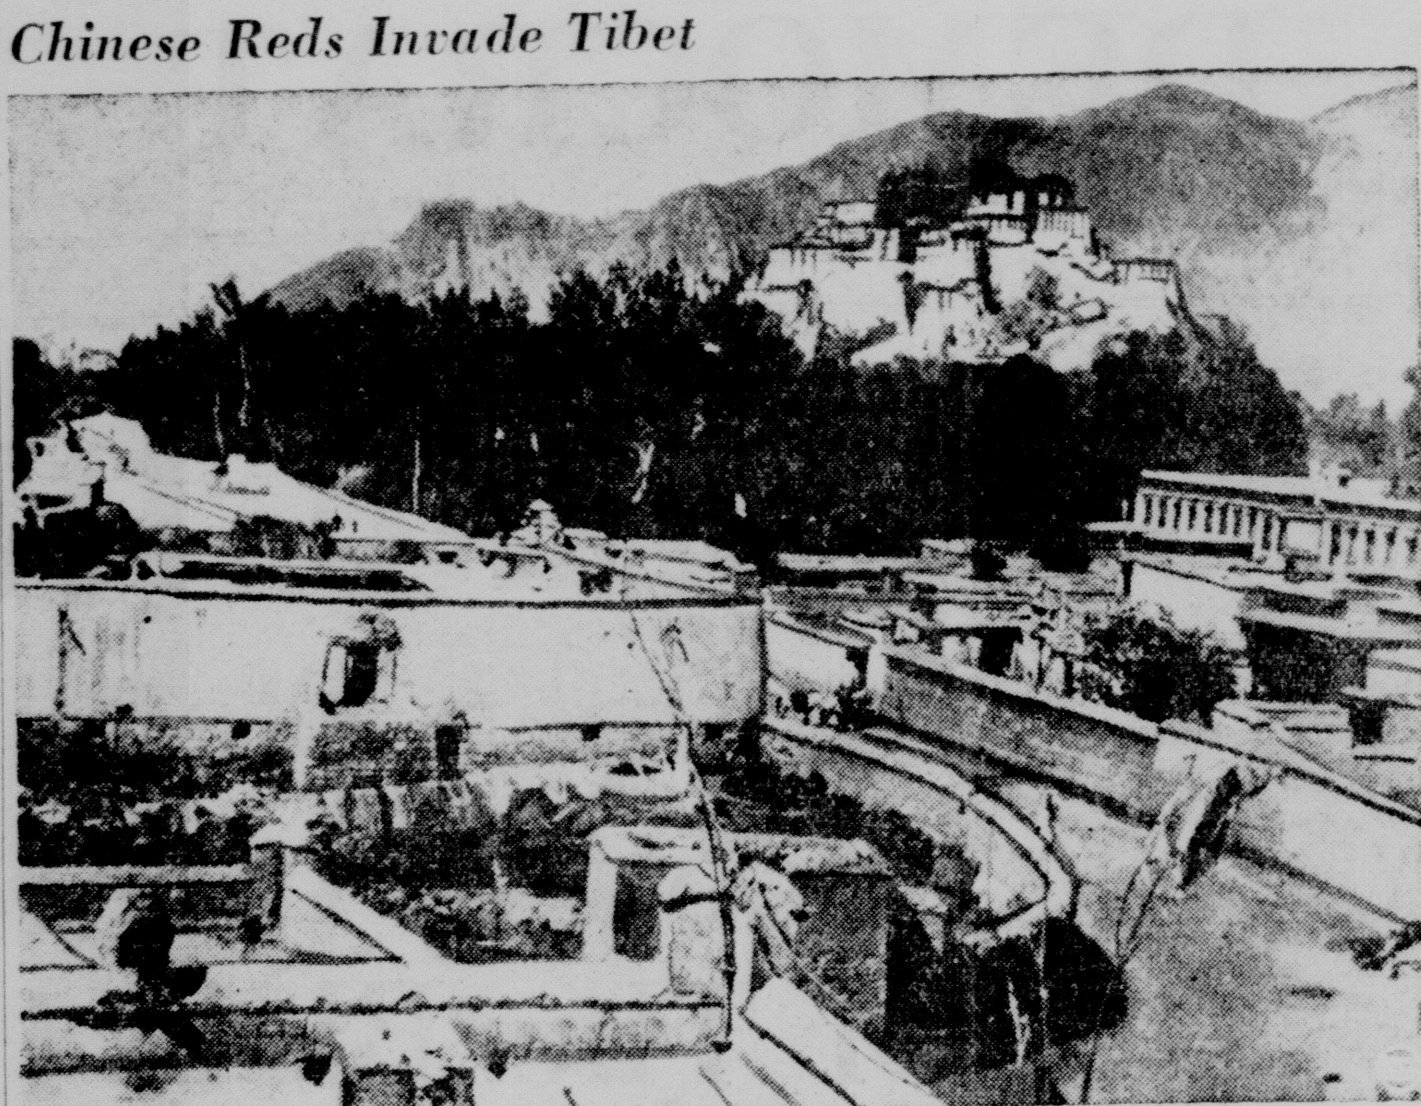

PARIS — The creation of an "Asian UN" which would eventually include Korea, among others, is currently being discussed between Communist China and the government of India, French sources associated with the Communist World Federation of Trade Unions report.

The WFTU, which is generally credited with having prepared the ground for the Communist attack on South Korea, is one of Moscow's main instruments of penetration and aggression in the Asian countries.

A proposal for the establishment of an Asian Federation, I am reliably informed, was recently advanced by Chou En-lai, Communist China's premier and foreign minister, in a conversation with Sardar Pannikar, India's ambassador in Peking. Following his meeting with Chou En-lai, Pannikar reportedly discussed the proposal with Red President Mao Tse-tung.

An Asian union would obviously serve as a check on the United Nations should Communist China fail to gain admission to this "western-minded" body. It might ultimately develop into an Asian rival of UN.

A strong advocate of Communist China's claim for admission to UN, Jawaharlal Nehru, India's Chinese Communist troops have invaded Tibet and are less than 200 miles from its capital at Lhasa, which is shown in this picture. An Indian government spokesman said the Tibetan government had asked the Indian government for "diplomatic help."

nificant that the New Delhi government recently went out of its way to reiterate India's faith in the UN. This despite the fact that Nehru was decidedly opposed to the UN's decision to cross the 38th parallel and its resolution on Korea.

Nevertheless, should India continue to be thwarted in the UN especially should Chinese Communists fail to gain admission — an Asian federation sponsored by China and India is, in the view of my informants, a distinct possibility.

New Session of Parliament

LONDON, Nov. 1—(P)—King George VI opened a new session of parliament Tuesday with medieval pageantry and a pledge that his ministers will strive "by all means in their power" to ensure successful rearmament to avoid war.

The king rode in state through crowded London streets, with an escort of red-coated household cavalry, to convene what may be the last session of parliament under Prime Minister Attlee's second Labor government. Attlee may close it with a new national election.

In his speech from the throne—written for him by the Attlee government—the king disclosed that legislation will be introduced to:

1. Nationalize part of the sugar industry.
2. Give the government permanent powers to regulate production, distribution and consumption of goods and to control prices.
3. Reform the leasehold laws to postpone expiration of 99-year leases on thousands of English homes and buildings.
4. Develop civil defense measures.
5. Expand home food production because of the "disturbed international situation."

Cutback Looms On Metals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—(P)—Cuts of 20 to 30 per cent in the civilian use of copper, nickel, and aluminum will probably be ordered within the next ten days, effective Dec. 1.

That was the word Tuesday from an official of the National Production Authority (NPA).

Last week the NPA told manufacturers of radio and television sets, washing machines, refrigerators and other appliances that there was a "tentative plan" for an across-the-board cutback in the three vital metals, which are in demand for airplanes, radar and other war equipment.

Today the plan is a bit more than "tentative," and Dec. 1 is said to have been almost positively chosen as the effective date.

Truman Bust Painted Turned to Pink

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1—(P)—The once white marble pedestal supporting a bronze bust of President Truman on the University of Kansas City campus turned pink Monday.

Pre-Halloween pranksters doused the bust and pedestal with splashes of red and white enamel last Friday night. Workmen Monday cleaned the bust and got most of the surface paint off the foot square and two and a half foot high pedestal.

But the scrubbing blended the base colors into a general pink. "It appears the enamel soaked in a bit," the university spokesman said ruefully. "We're doubtful if it's ever going to look just right again."

Wilson Gets Change Of Venue From Court

A change of venue has been granted in the case of Malcolm Wilson charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm. The case has been sent by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman to Boone county for trial.

The incident occurred on September 6 on West Broadway in front of Radio Station KDRO, when Wilson is alleged to have shot James Cornwall, a former employee of the concern.

Wilson is at liberty under a $2,000 cash bond.

He Has His Own Number-13

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—(P)—The name of Patrolman Sam Nelson Fury contains 13 letters. He was born in 1903, a total of 13, on Oct. 13. He's been on the police force 13 years, since October 13, 1937. Before that, he worked 13 years for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Fury says he weighs 213 pounds and has carried the same night-stick for 13 years. He says he arrested 13 people during his first week on the force. Naturally, his badge is No. 13, and he wears size 13 socks and No. 13 shoes.

County Needs Vigorous Prosecutor

Mike Bogutski

When going to the polls on November 7, the people of Pettis County, regardless of their political affiliation, should give careful consideration to their vote for Prosecuting Attorney.

The manner in which the County Prosecuting Attorney's office is handled can be the difference between good law enforcement which will rid the county of organized crime, and poor law enforcement which refuses to do anything about certain types of crime, particularly professional gambling in Sedalia.

The Prosecuting Attorney's office is the one office in Pettis County that requires the services of a vigorous, intelligent lawyer who is not in any way obligated to those who profit by the successful operation of professional gambling in Pettis County. This County needs a prosecuting attorney whose only obligation is to the people to so enforce the law as to make Sedalia and Pettis County a better place in which to live and rear a family.

The Republican candidate for this office is Mike Bogutski. He knows the conditions which now exist in this county. He is a native son of Pettis County, born on East Fourth street in the heart of the third ward of the City of Sedalia. His family lived in Sedalia for over 20 years, leaving here in 1937. After finishing his legal training, Mike returned to Sedalia to open his practice of law. If he is elected to the office of Prosecuting Attorney, Sedalia and Pettis County will have a fair and impartial, yet at the same time, a vigorous and intelligent Prosecutor. He is a young man who will not shelter or protect any group or select few; he will give equal treatment to everyone. Mike is an able lawyer as he has already demonstrated. He is sincere and conscientious, and if elected to this office, he will give the people of Pettis County the fair, aggressive law enforcement which they need and deserve. He will not make organized labor, or any other group, the subject of abuse by his office.

When you vote for Mike Bogutski for Prosecuting Attorney, you will not only be helping him personally, but you will be doing yourself and all of the people of Pettis County a favor by selecting this honest man for this important office for the coming two years.

Higher Food Prices Loom

By Karl R. Bauman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—(P)—Higher food prices—maybe the highest ever—are in prospect for next year, the agriculture department said Tuesday.

The department predicted that food prices, which have risen through most of 1950 with a fairly sharp upturn after the outbreak of war in Korea, probably will not go up much more before late winter.

But in a report on the national food situation the department foresaw "reinforced pressure" on prices in the spring and declared the accelerated consumer demand for food, unless checked by anti-inflationary measures or other developments, could push food prices by mid-year up to and even above the record level of the summer of 1948.

While food supplies somewhat larger than this year's are expected, the department said the increase likely will be insufficient to keep pace with greater consumer demand for food.

Several factors will contribute to this increased demand, the department said. It gave this explanation:

The rise in employment, hours worked and hourly wages will increase consumer incomes. Increases in consumer incomes may be only partly offset by higher taxes and other anti-inflationary measures. Larger social security benefits will permit increased food consumption by many individuals. Probable reductions in output of consumer goods and perhaps some non-durables, as well as credit controls, will make available additional consumer purchasing power for food.

Buys St. Louis Clothing Store

The stock and fixtures of the St. Louis Clothing Company have been purchased from the Drollich brothers by Morris Reznikoff, of St. Louis, who operates a number of stores under the name of The American Sales Co. The new company will only operate here until January 1.

Mr. Reznikoff has already taken charge of the business and plans to have a "wall to wall" sale in the 60 days he has charge. He now operates stores in Warrensburg, Pleasant Hill, Tipton, Eldon, Versailles and Lebanon. He has bought the stock in a store in Kincaid, Ill., which he will merge with the Sedalia stock.

William Arenson, of St. Louis, will be manager here in charge for Mr. Reznikoff.

Both deals with the Drollich brothers were made through Frank Monroe, Sedalia real estate man.

Negroes Tell of 'Bribe to Slay'

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—(P)—The Circuit Attorney's office is studying statements by two Negroes that a St. Louis County man tried to hire them to kill or cripple D. R. Adams, business agent of the AFL Carpenters' union here.

The man's identity was not disclosed, but he was described as a former member of the union.

Adams' home was bombed last Sept. 26 and he was shot twice in the leg during a fight at a construction job last April. A bitter jurisdictional dispute was on at the time.

Police said Louis R. Johnson, Negro convict serving a term for robbery at the state penitentiary in Jefferson City, first told of the case following announcement by the union of a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and convictions of persons responsible for bombing the Adams home.

Johnson said the offer was made to him and Gladstone Watts, Negro mover.

"He said he would pay us $300 to cripple Mr. Adams, $400 for a 'better job' and $1,200 if we would kill him," police quoted Johnson as saying.

The Negroes said they turned down the job. The bombers of Adams' have not been caught.

Take Police Car; Then Chide 'Cops'

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 1 — (P) — An audacious thief stole an unmarked police car from police headquarters, then used its two-way radio to tease the cops about it.

He took the car after officers Al DeMoss and Ray Jones parked it at the station's rear to book a couple of prisoners.

A little later a strange voice on the radio asked police dispatcher Lowell Orloff if he had any matches.

Suspecting it was the stolen car 149—Orloff asked:

"What officer is in car 149?"

Back came the voice: "There's no officer in car 149. This is a stolen car."

After a bit more banter, the thief identified himself as "Norman," named a place where he said he'd leave the vehicle.

Other patrol units sped to the spot. No stolen police car. Then came another call from "Norman." He was a mile from where he said he'd be. Another rush of patrol cars—same story.

Using a radio wave length that car 149's radio could not receive, Orloff broadcast the stolen automobile's description all over the state.

The highway patrol reported the stolen vehicle was found abandoned later Tuesday morning near Arcadia, Okla. A state crime bureau agent was on his way to examine the car for fingerprints.

Pennsylvania Offers Two Good Senate Candidates

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The state of Pennsylvania, which has sent some freak senators to Washington in the past, this year can't very well go wrong. It has two good men to pick from: Gov. James Duff, Republican; and Sen. Francis Myers, Democrat.

However, if the tremendous swing which nominated Duff last May continues, he will be the new senator in Washington next January.

This—if it happens—will mark something more than just a new senator from Pennsylvania. For Duff represents a new philosophy inside the Republican party which it needs more of if it is ever going to recapture the White House. He also is a man who is sure to be considered a presidential candidate if he wins on November 7.

When Duff was nominated to the Senate last spring he received letters from all over the country stating: "Thank God for a change in the Republican leadership. We're Democrats, but we would vote Republican, if the Republicans offered something new."

What they referred to is the fact that Duff has not tried to tear down all the New Deal legislation FDR built up. Nor has he based his campaign on the Senator McCarthy bogey that Communists lurk under state department desks. Instead, he has followed a policy not unlike that of Governor Warren of California of taking the best of the New Deal program and adding some features of his own—cleaning up one of the chief rivers of his state, reforming the insane asylums, improving the schools, and putting the Pennsylvania manufacturers association in its place.

For years, Pennsylvania was ruled by barons of coal, steel, gas, and oil. What they wanted, they largely got. And the normal GOP governor in Harrisburg usually did their bidding. Governor Duff, however, reversed this, and in so doing won the undying enmity of the insatiable disciple of the high tariff, Joe Grundy, plus all his fellow manufacturers. They did their best to defeat Duff at the primaries and, believe it or not, they are now conspiring with a Democrat, Senator Myers, to try to defeat Duff in November.

Presidential Material

Jim Duff is big, barrel-chested, redheaded, rides horseback at the age of 67 two or three times a week, works late hours, reads till one or two a.m., and drinks water incessantly. If it wasn't for his age, he would be excellent presidential timber, though in these days, with MacArthur 71, General Marshall 70, and Harry Truman one year younger than Duff, he can't be counted out.

Duff inherited some of his crusading belligerency from his father, a Presbyterian minister in Westmoreland county, near Carnegie. His father supported five children on an income of $3,700, and sent all of them to college. When Jim Duff was a boy, he remembers an oil company drilling wells opposite his father's farm and offering to buy the Duff place—for a song. His father refused.

Instead, he drilled eight wells on his own land. But when he could not get the oil company to buy his gas, the elder Duff simply uncorked a well, let the gas gush out, thus lowering the pressure in the wells across the line.

After that the oil company came to terms. That was when Jim Duff got his first taste of bucking big business, and he has been bucking the barons most of his life.

His next brush came when he was attorney general of Pennsylvania and closed the legal loopholes permitting dumping in Pennsylvania rivers. Later, as governor, he started the almost revolutionary project of dredging out the Schuylkill river.

Dredges River

For years the coal companies along the river had been dumping their waste coal and culm into the Schuylkill until its channel was choked to a height of 18 feet. This is now being dredged out of the river, the channel restored, and about one-third of the coal reclaimed.

At first, business was opposed. But the other day, Rev. Brown, president of the Reading railroad, told the governor: "They've been rapping you over the Schuylkill river, but I think it's one of the best things the state has ever done."

Another Duff project was to clean up the state asylums, long one of the worst scandals in Pennsylvania. The Byberry asylum near Philadelphia was so filthy that holes in the floor were used as toilets, and inmates were chained to walls. But with the help of former Supreme Court Justice Owen Roberts, Life magazine and a group of Quakers, Byberry has now been completely renovated. And today Pennsylvania is ahead of most states in its care of the insane.

Duff is a former Bull-Mooser, was a delegate to the Teddy Roosevelt convention in 1912, along with another eminent Pennsylvanian, Harold Ickes. His disrespect for big business was acquired both from Teddy and his father.

"The general run of people," he says, "are not interested in making the rich richer and poor poorer."

Turns Down Retainers

There is an interesting contrast between the life of Jim Duff and that of Joe Hanley, lieutenant governor of New York. When Duff was urged to run for governor, he also pled lack of funds. But a friend argued: "You can get two retainers for $20,000 and $15,000 that will supplement your state salary."

The friend mentioned two Pennsylvania utility companies for whom Duff had worked in the past. Unlike Hanley, however, Duff replied:

"Not me. When I work for my state or my government, I don't take money from an outside source."

After conferring with Mrs. Duff, however, they decided to curtail their domestic budget and thus run for office.

Governor Duff belongs to a small but growing school within the Republican party, including Governor Warren of California, Governor Driscoll of New Jersey, Senator Ives of New York and Morse of Oregon, who believe that you can't win votes merely by criticism. You've got to lead, build, construct, they believe, not tear down. And if sometimes your program overlaps or coincides with the Democrats', they also believe that's no reason for shying away from it.

That's why the prospective senator from Pennsylvania says:

"In this fight the Republican party cannot go two ways at the same time."

France Fears Rearmed Reich, Offers European Army Plan

The French now are formally on record against the rebirth of an organized German army. They have endorsed instead a plan for a general European army that would include some German units.

Under the French proposal, German manpower could not be grouped in units of greater than battalion strength. This is in direct contrast to U. S. suggestions that 10 fully equipped German divisions be put into the field as part of a western army.

This French decision, of course, reflects the deep, basic fear France harbors at the thought of a revived German military might. The feeling is understandable when it is remembered that German juggernauts twice overran France in the past 35 years.

But the French are realistic enough today to know that the Soviet Union is now a greater menace than Germany. They appreciate, therefore, that they can't simply take a negative stand on "no German army" and let it go at that. The free world wants action on a defense plan that offers some real hope of standing off the Russian Communists.

That's why the French have laid out the alternative of a European army. Without some such proposal, they'd be in the unenviable position of simply obstructing a defense plan desired by the other western countries.

Will a European army integrating different nationalities in small units actually work? The French insist that it will. They point to Americans and South Koreans fighting side by side in the same companies in Korea. They think language barriers are secondary, that the military language of command is technical and therefore almost universal.

There are other possible handicaps. The Germans have scant regard for French military planning, and less for French execution of plans. Other nations may feel the same. Perhaps only an American commander would satisfy all.

There undoubtedly will be some leaders in other countries, too, who feel that rearmament should not proceed solely along lines pleasing the French.

All the possible weaknesses of the French program will be examined closely in the new defense talks about to get under way among the Atlantic pact nations in Washington.

Assuming dogged French adherence to the European mixed army concept, the conferees will find their task difficult. They can either accept the French proposal, or try to organize a western army wholly without German units. To insist upon a force incorporating full German divisions would be to lose French participation in Europe's joint defense. Which amounts to saying there'd be no joint defense, since France's geographic position makes it crucial to any effective plan.

The decisions which emerge from the Washington meeting will be critical for the whole future of Europe. This is a turning point, a moment of supreme test for the idea that countries can get together for their common defense BEFORE an enemy actually strikes them.

A Thorn by Another Name . . .

There'll be those who will object to our granting Yugoslavia $2,000,000 for food relief —on the ground that we shouldn't help any Communist anywhere, including Tito.

But we're not helping Tito as a Communist. We're aiding him as the leader of a country which has the best trained anti-Russian army in Europe, as the symbol of opposition to Stalinist Russia from within the Communist party. To watch Tito topple from power would be to witness the removal of the greatest thorn in Russia's European flank.

THE BACKING OF BIOLOGY AND DEMOCRACY

2. We have the backing of biology. The idea of inherently superior races and inherently inferior races is being fast exploded by scientific investigation. There are undeveloped races, but no permanently inferior or superior ones. An outstanding biologist says: "There are cultural differences between races, but no biological." The four types of blood found in one race are found in every race. The I.Q.'s of the colored children in New York are as high as those of white children. The cultural background of the homes from which they come may help or retard their progress, but the raw material is the same. An English judge in Burma, who had also been a judge in England, told me he had discovered that the brain of humanity is one, for the lawyers in England and in Burma argue from the same fallacies to the same conclusions! I find as I go around the world that people of all races will laugh in exactly the same way over the same jokes. Humanity is literally one.

3. We have the backing of democracy. If democracy means anything, it means equal opportunity to all—and all means all, of whatever race, color, or class. If it doesn't mean that, it is not democracy, but hypocrisy—the rule of the mask, instead of the rule of the mass. When we take the pledge of allegiance to the flag and say "with liberty and justice to all"—"to all" must mean "all," or nothing.

Remember the words of Peter: "The Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction." When we make racial distinction then we break with the Spirit of God and accept the spirit of arrogance.

O God, help me to belong to "the community of the just." For I know that without justice here can be no community. Cleanse my heart of all that cannot be made into community—all divisiveness, all prejudice, all smallness. I want to be big—to love in spite of differences of color and race. For down underneath we are the same—and I know it. Amen.

Q. and A.

You and the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Q. Is it true that a man can now enlist in the Army for 21 months?

A. No. Enlistments are for three, four, five, and six years.

Q. My son had a mastoid operation when he was a child. His ear has been bad ever since. And one eye is very bad. In your opinion will they take him in the Army?

A. On this type of question, which comes in by the hundreds from anxious parents, my opinion is not worth a dime. Each man is given an exam for the draft and his fitness for service is determined by the examining doctor. It is impossible for even a doctor to read a description of someone's ears and forecast whether or not he will pass a draft exam. Frankly, it's a waste of postage to mail in such queries.

Q. My son was a line officer on an aircraft carrier during World War II. Recently he received word that he had been promoted pending the completion of a physical exam which showed him fit. Does this mean he will be called soon?

A. No.

Q. Can a draftee enter officers' candidate school or does he have to enlist for four years?

A. Provided qualifications are met, any soldier in the Army may apply for officers' candidate school. Applicant must be U. S. citizen, over 19 and not have passed his 28th birthday. He must be a high school graduate, have attained a score of 110 on an Army general classification test and pass a rigid physical exam.

Q. I was getting a dependent's allotment when they were cut off a while back. Since the allotment has been reinstated will I begin getting it again automatically? Or must my son do something about it to get it started?

A. Your son has to make an application to get it started again.

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELINE McELFRESH

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Aunt Maggie Thorne is smothered to death in bed and all of the household, including Peter, a nephew who arrived on the eve of the crime, are suspected. Leeana, a grandniece, clears herself of a clumsy attempt to implicate her in the crime. Jasper, a nephew, is planted under his pillow by his wife Sandra. Then follows an attempt to kill 74-year-old Aunt Agatha, sister of the slain woman. Aunt Agatha had been overheard arguing with Peter earlier and Peter had accused her of murdering Aunt Maggie. Sheriff Clem Purdy and Deputy Matt Preston arrive for questioning and Peter, apparently agitated, starts to leave the room. As Matt tries to stop him, Peter tells the deputy with a blow on the chin. Leeana is torn by her suspicions which point first to Peter Thorne and then to his brother Jasper. It begins to look, the girl decides, as if either one or the other had killed Aunt Maggie before she could cut them both off in her will.

PETER THORNE was pacing the veranda, smoking. He turned his face, a pale blur in the darkness as Leeana approached.

"Does the boy friend forgive me?"

"He isn't my boy friend and I wouldn't blame if he did shoot you on sight," Leeana retorted. "Why did you go off on a tangent like that, Peter?"

He shook his head. "I don't know. All at once I had to get out of that room."

"By punching a deputy sheriff?" "You don't believe me, do you?" When she shook her head, he said, "I don't blame you. But I did not kill Aunt Maggie, Leeana. You must believe that. Do you?"

"I don't know." Peter smoothed the tiny Hollywoodish mustache. "But you are forming an opinion, aren't you?" "Don't let on! Common sense shouted in Leeana's mind. Don't say yes!"

"Am I?" Peter nodded. "I think you are, cousin dear. And I don't think you like the way it's pointing. You favored me, didn't you?"

"Why, Peter Thorne?"

"Hitting below the belt gets results, Leeana," he said soberly. "Lawyers learn that. You're an extrovert, Leeana. Your every feeling is reflected in your face, your actions. You wouldn't have come out here if you hadn't trusted me. Would you?"

"No, I suppose not."

"Then why are you afraid of me?"

Lying would not save her now. Peter was too close, he was too cunning. . . .

She said, "I was looking at your hands, Peter. But if Sandra was with you—"

She left the accusation hanging there, gnawing at his ribs.

"I didn't say that, Leeana. Remember?" Peter was smiling. Pleasantly, not at all as a killer should smile. He said then, softly, "Have you ever looked at Sandra's hands, Leeana?"

There was a widening band of gray in the east when Leeana tumbled into her bed for a few hours' sleep from which she awoke as unrefreshed and tired as she had been throughout the night of terror.

The terror was still there, only seen in the grim light of morning, it was worse. The tiny fear-lines that had been obliterated by the kind light of shaded lamps were visible now, and the mannerisms of fear were more pronounced. Or perhaps, Leeana thought as she seated herself across the breakfast table from Jasper Thorne and his wife, her senses, her suspicions, were more acute this morning.

There was little conversation, none of it about the murder or would-be murder, but Leeana was sure she had interrupted something of the sort. She felt unwanted, as though either Jasper or Sandra, or both of them, resented her.

She looked up from the plate of bacon and eggs Mrs. Carstairs had just placed in front of her. "I'm not that hungry." She made herself smile.

"Eat anyhow," Sandra suggested. "You'll need all the support you can get today—physical and moral. So will we all. Food won't hurt you any."

Ominous as her words were, they were no match for the flint that struck sparks in her cold gray eyes—eyes that, Leeana knew, could sparkle with warmth for a man. For Matt Preston.

Biting the jealous twinge in two, she said, "Is Deputy Preston around this morning?"

"Matt's out, and chucked," Sandra said calmly, and chuckled. "Don't think I haven't caught the way the wind blows between you two!" Leeana flushed, much to her disgust. It gave Sandra another pin to stick into her poise at the proper time.

"Why not?" said Jasper unexpectedly. "Why shouldn't Cousin Leeana get herself a man? Thorne Lee must have been pretty dull with no one but us Thorntons around."

"Never dull, Jasper. Not exactly pleasant, but—" Leeana stopped.

DULL red had spread upward from Jasper's open shirt collar. He lurched to his feet, swaying unsteadily.

"Don't touch me!" he snarled as Sandra put out a remonstrating hand.

"But Jasper—" She started forward again as Jasper drew back.

"Don't, I say!" He slapped her hand much as he might have swatted a mosquito, and Sandra shrank from him. "Won't you ever learn, Sandra? I won't be taken in again! I hate you. I never want to see you again after this thing is over and the police will let you leave. I—I'm sorry I ever gave you the name of Thorne."

"You're sorry?" Throwing back her head until the pulse in her lovely throat beat tantalizingly near his long lean fingers, Sandra laughed. Shrilly. And kept laughing, edging nearer and nearer hysteria bred of murder and fed on continued fear, suspicion—terror.

The Doctor Says—Parents of Mongoloid Children Must Show Great Courage

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Parents who have a mongoloid child are greatly shocked by this sad event. It happens entirely without warning, even to the most healthy and normal parents and always causes sadness and heartache.

Although it is true that the cause of these unfortunate births is not known, there are a few facts about them which have been established. About one child in five hundred or a thousand will be a mongoloid. This means that some three to five thousands mongoloid children are born each year in the United States, out of the total of about three million.

A question that comes up constantly is whether a mother who has had one mongoloid child should try again for a normal baby. Judging from what is known, the answer would usually be affirmative because she would have nineteen chances out of twenty of having a normal child. True, this is not as good a chance as the mother who has not had a mongoloid infant, but it is not too bad.

possession. In 1907 the U. S. Supreme Court decided it belonged to Cuba.

Q—Are whales classed as fish or mammals?

A—The whale is a mammal. A whale breathes air and is without any gills; it has fins, but these are very different from those of fish.

Another point that is important to remember is that a woman who becomes pregnant after the age of 40 has a somewhat increased chance of having a mongoloid child. She should not worry about this during pregnancy, however, since the older mother is much more likely to have perfectly normal infants than a mongoloid.

The birth of a mongoloid child, though a great misfortune, is a sort of accident and does not reflect on the parents, the relatives, the medical care or the diet. This event should not cause careless gossip among friends or neighbors. It must be faced by the parents with courage and intelligence.

Recognizable at Birth

A mongoloid infant can be identified at birth, and consequently, it is often wise to separate the child from its mother before sentimental ties of affection have been forged.

There is no known way of improving the mental capacity of a mongoloid child and therefore most physicians feel that they should be placed in an institution as soon as possible. They always appear to be happy and friendly and do not suffer from their condition or from being in an institution. They seem to like music, and can imitate quite well but do not often learn to speak and when they do, the voice is rough and harsh. Many die while they are still quite young and few live beyond their teens.

PIN-WORMS GO!

Jayne's P-W Gets Real Results

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

HOG MANGE AND LICE

Benzene Hexachloride is very strongly recommended in the treatment of Hog Mange and for use against Hog Lice. It is very effective, economical and easy to use. The 10% powder can be mixed with water at the rate of 1 pound per 25 gallons of water, for use as a spray or dip. It has a very strong odor and should not be used in less than 30 days before butchering or marketing as the flesh absorbs this odor.

I believe that Benzene Hexachloride is suggested by the Extension agents and by the Veterans training instructors.

A six pound bag of 10% Benzene Hexachloride retails for $2.69 and makes 150 gallons of spray. It keeps well and has many other uses as an insecticide.

Arrest of a Bank Robber Due to Tip

All But $10 Left From Bank at Liberal Found

LAMAR, Mo., Nov. 1.—(P)—A tip from a housewife was credited by officers today with leading to the arrest of Ralph Rogers in the $1,400 bank hold-up at Liberal, Mo.

Sheriff Jim Bassett said Mrs. Dorothy Stoner, Seneca, Mo., saw a man wearing a raincoat duck into the back doorway of a pool hall shortly after the robbery. Her report, the sheriff said, led to the arrest of the 37-year-old Rogers and the recovery of all but $10 of the loot.

Rogers waived preliminary hearing today when arraigned in magistrate court on a first degree robbery charge. His bond was set at $10,000 and his case set for trial in circuit court January 8. He was to be turned over to federal authorities this afternoon.

Prosecutor Clyde Combs said Rogers had signed a statement admitting he was the robber.

Folk Song Singer At Club Dinner

Members of the Sedalia Knife and Fork Club heard one of the outstanding singers of folk songs in the United States when Tom Scott appeared at the club's dinner meeting in Bothwell Hotel Tuesday night.

Mr. Scott is a recognized authority on folk songs, having arranged and published over a hundred of the songs which accompany the American people as they work and play. He believes there is no more eloquent expression of the American spirit than native folk songs.

Mr. Scott was introduced by O. W. Wiley, program chairman.

The Rev. H. U. Campbell, past president of the club, now of Lexington, was present and made a brief talk.

T. H. Yount, president presided at the meeting. John W. Baker was elected a director. J. J. Chipman was elected vice-president, succeeding Mr. Yount.

front porch. Several small two-wheeled trailers were pulled away from their parking lots and rolled to various parts of the city.

Glass is Shattered
Glass in a front window at Sixteenth street and Montgomery avenue, was smashed by a rock at 12:55 o'clock; a rock went through a glass in a front door at 1801 South Summit avenue at 1:05 o'clock; and another front door glass was shattered by a rock at Eighteenth street and Brown avenue at 1:25 o'clock, this morning.

G. D. Ward, 620 North Engineer avenue, reported to the police he attended a party at 401 East Fourteenth street, and when he went to get his car shortly after 1:00 o'clock, this morning, both headlights were broken and the left half of the windshield broken on his Hudson sedan.

Rocks were thrown upon a porch at 251 East Chestnut street at 7:57 o'clock; police were called to investigate Hallowe'en annoyances at 308 West Third street at 8:57 o'clock and to 520 West Fourth street at 9:00 o'clock.

A. T. Meyer, Moberly, Mo., driving north on Highway 65 at Jefferson street, reported a rock thrown through his windshield, at 9:00 o'clock.

Burning grass, at 404 North Prospect avenue at 6:05 o'clock, and at Engineer and Howard street at 7:00 o'clock caused runs by the fire companies.

Many Police Calls
Numerous other calls were made to the police to investigate pranks throughout the city, some were answered, others unanswered due to one of the Police Patrol two-way radio cars having to be left standing at the curb at police headquarters because it has been out of running order for several days.

Members of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion Auxiliary police assisted the regular police in patrolling the city in privately owned automobiles.

Apparent Attempt To Assassinate Truman

the door leading into the Blair House behind the east guard box. One spike on the iron picket fence in front of Blair House was knocked off. The bullet that hit it may have been the one which later came to rest near the door.

The apparent assassination attempt was the first known move against Mr. Truman's life.

Both gunmen wore black fedoras, hats and neat pin-stripe suits. Immediately after the shooting, one lay face down, blood streaming from his head, at the foot of the steps leading to the Blair House.

The other was crumpled in a crouching position at the foot of a nearby hedge.

The gun fire broke out suddenly and without warning. Traffic was proceeding normally along Pennsylvania avenue.

White House police were standing as usual at the canopied stairways leading into the Blair and adjoining Leo houses. Other police were in guard houses to one side of the residences.

Secret Service men said two men suddenly made a rush at Blair House with guns in their hands.

The White House guard opened fire.

"Let Them Have It"
A policeman told a reporter that one of the civilians had approached from across Pennsylvania avenue, the other from the corner west of Blair House on the avenue.

Their guns were blazing at the three White House policemen who guarded the sentry booths and the front entry of Blair House.

"We let them have it," the policeman said.

Emergency calls brought police cars screaming from all parts of the city. A crowd quickly gathered.

Mr. Truman peered out of Blair House briefly as ambulances and rescue cars arrived.

White House police said the two civilians were tentatively identified from papers on them as Marion R. Preston, dead, and Oscar Olliskin, or O. Olliskin, who was seriously wounded through the head and chest.

At emergency hospital, James G. Copossela, hospital administrator, said the dead man had not been identified. He said the wounded man had been identified to him as Oscar Collazo of 173 Brook avenue, New York.

Red Chinese Invasion of Tibet A Sharp Jolt to India

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Communist China's invasion of little Tibet must be a sharp reminder to India's Prime Minister Nehru of the Chinese proverb that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount.

Nehru, who is regarded by many as the potential leader of Asia, has been pursuing a largely neutral course in the conflict between the democracies and the Communist bloc. He has been advocating admission of the Peiping government to membership in the United Nations.

Consequently Red China's march on Tibet has come as a jarring surprise in New Delhi, which had understood that the differences between Tibet and China would be settled diplomatically. And on top of this jolt

BIRTHS

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cornwall, 1009 East Sixth street, at the Bothwell hospital at 5:29 o'clock Tuesday morning. The baby weighed six pounds and three ounces.

A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wright, 1218 South Osage avenue, at the Bothwell hospital at 5:29 o'clock Tuesday morning. The baby weighed seven pounds and seven ounces.

Daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunsaker, 334 North Randolph street at 5:56 o'clock Tuesday morning at Bothwell hospital. Weight: Seven pounds, 15 ounces. The name of Cheryl Elizabeth has been given the child, whose mother was formerly Miss Edith Burnett.

Give Pennies For the Chest

Last week some very small "trick-or-treaters" knocked on the door of a woman interested in the Community Chest Drive.

"This is too early for trick-or-treat," she told them, but if you will each give me a penny for the Community Chest I will give you a treat.

The children left, much impressed with the idea of the Community Chest which helps other little boys and girls, and in a short time they all came back—each one with a penny for the Community Chest.

The woman answered their knock at the door, accepted their pennies for the Community Chest and gave each a nice treat.

The woman told the story and explained that she just wanted to teach them about the Community Chest and that their pennies counted, too, for every penny helps the fund grow to build better boys and girls, both physically and morally.

Copossela said the wounded man's condition was "fair." He said the man was being questioned by police but was refusing to answer most questions.

They said the White House guards wounded were Don Mirdzell, Leslie Cofelt and Joe Downs. They were taken to Emergency hospital and their condition was not immediately known.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(P)—A woman taxi-driver caught in the gun battle in front of President Truman's Blair house residence today said the shots "seemed to be coming from all over."

"At the sound of the shooting," she related, "pedestrians scattered like magic and the cops swarmed to the scene."

The woman, Miss M. E. Hayes, of Arlington, Va., said she saw at least three and maybe four persons shot and lying on the ground in the vicinity of the Blair house.

(Although three policemen and two civilians were shot, one of the civilians fatally.)

Miss Hayes was riding north on 17th street in a cab. At the corner of 17th and Pennsylvania Ave., she heard what sounded like a series of backfires.

"That's no backfire," her cab driver said. "That's shooting for real."

"The cab driver told me he and a second passenger to duck to the floor," she said.

Not Immediately Advised
PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 1.—(P)—Margaret Truman was not immediately apprised today of the apparent assassination attempt on her father at the Blair house, presidential residence in Washington.

Kenneth Allen her concert manager, said she was "resting" and would be advised of it when she awakened.

Miss Truman is scheduled to sing here tonight. She is accompanied by secret service men. Whether additional police protection would be given her depended on them, Portland authorities said.

Guy Peabody, of this city, was the guest speaker Monday night at the G. I. Class of Farmers taught by Robert McCurdy at Hughesville. His subject was "1950 Income Taxes as Effect the Farmer."

comes word of the invasion of Northern Korea by considerable Chinese Communist forces.

So the Indian government is now faced with the necessity of overhauling its policy towards Communist China. Apparently the present policy is based on unwarranted hopes or on a misconception of what the Peiping regime really stands for.

Spread Propaganda
Some observers are speculating whether the Indian government hasn't been working on the erroneous belief that the Red Chinese government is of the nationalist variety and that General Mao, its head, has already become an Oriental Tito. Peiping itself long has been putting out propaganda calculated to convey this impression.

Talk on Chest To Lions Club

"The Community Chest" was the subject of Harold B. Bamburgh who spoke to the Sedalia Lions Club at their noonday meeting today. Mr. Bamburgh told of the participating in the Chest and what those in charge of the Chest hope individuals in Sedalia will give.

He explained the Chest hopes to reach the goal of $26,660. Guests today were Royal Cowger of William F. Brown and H. F. "Dusty" Deskins, visiting Lion from Jefferson City.

President Kenneth Buchholz gave a brief report on the annual Hallowe'en parade and party sponsored by the Sedalia Club, Tuesday night. He also reported on the dance given by the Club last Friday night.

17 Townships in Report on Chest

The first of the 17 townships of Pettis county to turn in a complete report on the Community Chest Drive was Dresden, according to Bob Sherman, according to the Township Division.

Mrs. C. M. Ferguson, chairman of the Dresden township drive, reported a total of $180.35. The two workers turning in the largest amounts of money were Mrs. Frances Finley, of Oak Grove school district with a sum of $75.10, and Mrs. Bruce Richey, of the Prairie Hill school district who turned in $49.25. Other workers, all of whom turned in good reports, were Mrs. John Silsby, of Brown school district; Mrs. Charles Smethers, Walnut Grove school district, I. C. Evans, Dresden school district, and Mrs. C. M. Ferguson.

The judging committee for the election of board members of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce started counting the votes this afternoon about 1:30 o'clock. Members of the judging committee are E. H. McLaughlin, Paul Hedderich and Keith Yount.

Ballots on which were 14 names were sent to all members of the Chamber of Commerce with seven to be selected from the group by the vote of the membership.

Government Aids The Sourdough

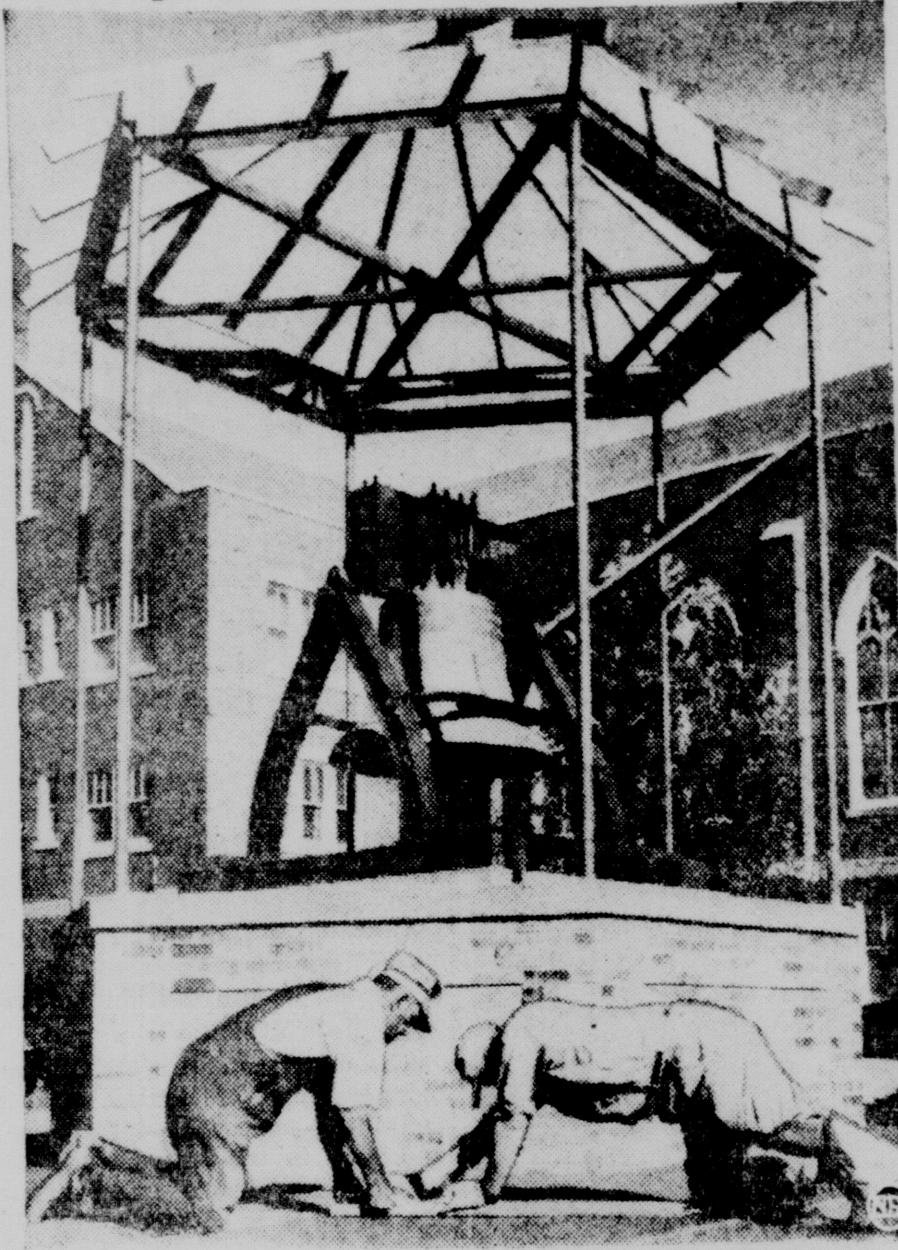

DEVON, Canada—(AP)—Alberta's rivers are still singing the songs of the sour-doughs and Thomas Staley says its beats everything. The way Staley pans out fine, because he's virtually got the Alberta government working for him.

The 64-year-old sourdough has two spots on the north Saskatchewan river in this Leduc oil country. Six others are working the waters thereabouts, but Staley has the spot where the government is building a bridge to replace the historic Devon Ferry, overworked by the oil boom.

Gravel for the bridge construction is washed at the site and a long flume carries the water back to the river. Staley has lined the flume with 20 feet of blanket. All he had to do is drop around every once in a while and pick up the pretty gold particles left on the blanket.

At the other location he has a mud box, 20 inches wide and four feet long, with blankets on the bottom and a screen on the top. He shovels sand into it and a one-horsepower motor pumps water from the river to wash it. He catches the gold particles on the blanket.

Bell Replica to Independence

Chronic Constipation Corrected By Scientific Discovery

At last, after years of Research by Medical Men, in test after test, UNI-LAX, a new scientific discovery, produced Amazing Results on patients of all ages suffering from the most Chronic Aggravated Constipation.

Recent Tests Prove

UNI-LAX has given many, blessed relief from the agonies of hard constipated matter that scratched their delicate intestines, caused Piles and even Rupture. Chronic constipation that bloated them up, made them Overweight and sapped their Vitality.

After a few short days, many of them said they felt like new people. A Nun who had been constipated for years said she was now having the most satisfactory bowel movement she could remember.

Many people who had been taking "Barrel of Laxatives", (to use their expression) claimed UNI-LAX did them more good than anything they had ever tried.

Other Laxatives

Don't expect UNI-LAX to give you the drastic reaction that ties your Stomach in knots, gives you Cramps and Diarrhea, leaves your colon irritated, Exhausted and inflamed. UNI-LAX is so gentle and safe, it is recommended for people suffering from Piles, Rupture, High Blood Pressure and Recital Irritations. It is also recommended for children, pregnant and nursing mothers.

UNI-LAX is not designed for the temporary emergency relief offered by harsh purgatives. It is a Scientific Formula in a tasteless tablet that turns into a soft jelly when it reaches the intestines. Because it acts so Naturally, it will take from 2 to 5 days to correct your condition.

Says Hospitals Grow Better

ATLANTIC CITY—(AP)—Hospitals will be more hospitable in the future if the nation's hospital administrators have their say in planning new hospital buildings.

Of functional modern design with park-like landscaping, the "hospital of tomorrow" will feature private and two-bed rooms, eye-appealing color schemes and indoor climate control, according to Bern Benson, director of the hospital division for the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company. His opinion is based on a survey his company conducted during a convention of the American Hospital Association here.

Silver Ghost Town Has One Resident

SANDON, B. C.—(AP)—An old man sits alone in this abandoned town high in the West Kootenay mountains of interior British Columbia, waiting for another boom. John Harris, now 89, was a youth of 23 when he found silver in this narrow, maple-covered gorge.

Near the turn of the century there were 23 hotels in Sandon and 2,300 miners were digging for silver. Two railroads built long spur lines to haul out the wealth.

One of the Harris mines yielded ore valued at $200,000 during one week of operation. He built two hotels and organized the machinery that makes a city from a collection of transient shacks. The Klondyke gold rush and the decline in silver prices finished off Sandon.

"There's still plenty of ore here," Harris says. "It's a little hard to find but when big money starts rolling again, Sandon will come to life with a bang."

Three From Sedalia Chiefs To 'Pro' Ball

Cal Rodgers, sponsor and president of the Sedalia Chiefs in the B. J. League before the Optimist club Tuesday as guest speaker told of its successful season here. Mr. Rodgers said that he could not have sponsored the Chiefs without the help that he had received from local merchants because of the large operating cost. It takes the cooperation of the entire organization and that the object of the Ban Johnson unit must be kept in their mind at all times. The object of Ban Johnson baseball is "If a ballplayer has it in him—Bring it out of him!"

Three graduates of Ban Johnson baseball, who are now playing professional ball, were introduced: Don McMullin, property of the New York Giants, a pitcher; "Salty" Shoemaker, a catcher, property of the Kingston Ontario, an independently owned baseball club and Ralph Fall, shortstop, property of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Thankful for B-J Ball
All three boys told how much their Ban Johnson baseball had helped them in their climb to the ladder of success. Ralph Walker, who recently signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers; Joe Imhauser, star pitcher of the 1950 championship team, Bob Shawver, Bill Morgan, both Junior Legion players who are being counted on to help the Chiefs next year, and Dale Ruffin, who is in the Air Corps, but is well known to Sedalia sport fans, were also present and gave short talks.

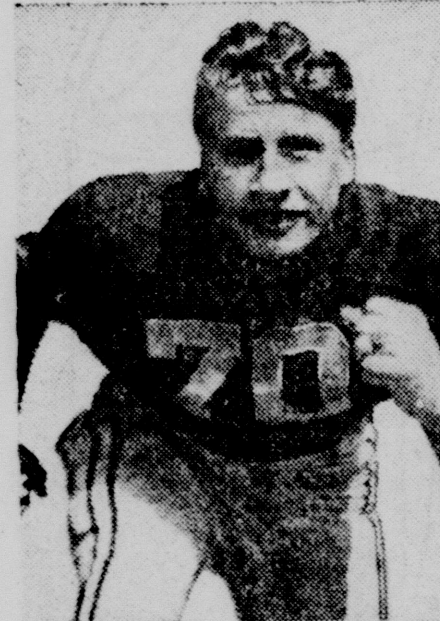

Following Rodgers' talk, Walter Jessee, vice president of the Missouri Ban Johnson baseball told of the many advantages a boy had playing in the organization. He mentioned that Jerry Lumpe, who made the all state Missouri Semi-Pro baseball team this summer as a shortstop, would have probably not been seen by scouts if it had not been for the Sedalia Chiefs. He added it is not probable that they would have gone to Warsaw to see the Junior Legion of that town play but they were in attendance for the Missouri State Semi-Pro tourney in which the Chiefs played in the finals.

President Hogan appointed a committee to get the Optimist basketball league underway. Those appointed were Dick Sklar, Gene Williams, Frank Dowdy, Paul Albert, Dr. Ronald Drennon and Cecil Glenn.

John F. Zander was a club guest and he gave an outline of amendment No. 1. He told the group what it was for and in his opinion why it is needed.

Mustangs, Army Still Hold Top Positions in Grid Poll

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—(AP)—Southern Methodist and Army are one-two again this week in the Associated Press football poll—and "X" marks the big round spot they're on.

These two unbeaten, untied leaders for National honors go against what stack up as their toughest assignments of the season in Saturday's games.

SMU Meets Texas
SMU's swift-striking Mustangs, who have rolled up 184 points on five foes, will meet a big, fast Texas team at Austin. Texas' only defeat was a 14-13 decision to Oklahoma.

Army will risk a 25-game unbeaten streak against formidable Pennsylvania, beaten only by California and 30-7 conqueror or Navy last week-end. The game is at Philadelphia.

The SMU-Texas game is the only one matching two members of college football's first ten, chosen for the fifth week by the nation's sport writers and broadcasters. Texas is No. 7.

Here is the new ranking, hardly disturbed at the top but given a good shaking down below:

SMU, Army, Oklahoma, Ohio State, Kentucky, California, Texas, Miami (Fla.), Princeton and Illinois.

Ohio State Takes Jump
Ohio State leaped from sixth to fourth on the strength of its awesome 63-21 rout of Iowa, dropping Kentucky and California down a notch.

Texas held firm at the seventh slot and three new teams moved in below, replacing Tennessee, Northwestern and Cornell.

Tennessee wasn't impressive in shading Washington and Lee, 27-20. Northwestern and Cornell fell from unbeaten ranks.

Oklahoma, who with SMU and Army compose football's seemingly irreplaceable "Big Three", should breeze to a new modern winning record of 27 games against Colorado.

Rose Bowl Bid On Line
Ohio State can expect a busy afternoon against Northwestern while California meets once-beaten Washington in the game that may decide the Rose Bowl host.

Other top ten teams play like this Saturday: Kentucky vs. Florida; Miami (Fla.) vs. Georgetown; Princeton vs. Colgate and Illinois vs. Michigan. There are few soft spots anywhere.

The rankings, with first place votes in parentheses and points awarded on the basis of ten for first, nine for second, etc:

TEAM	POINTS
1. SMU (24)	2,354
2. Army (24)	2,154
3. Oklahoma (25)	2,137
4. Ohio State (20)	2,122
5. Kentucky (18)	1,922
6. California (2)	1,244
7. Texas	1,236
8. Miami (Fla.) (12)	462
9. Princeton (2)	382
10. Illinois	352

The Nebraska Cornhuskers climbed into 21st position with their win over Kansas, while the Jayhawks fell into the 25th spot. Notre Dame was far down the list with a slim four votes despite

The V.F.W. and a number of business and professional men of Sedalia have invited all children twelve years of age and younger, to be their guests free at a circus Saturday, the fourth of November. The Circus performance will be presented in the Coliseum on the State Fair grounds.

The merchants, professional and business men of Sedalia are entertaining ten each of these boys and girls in the entire trade area which takes in 25 miles around the city. It is estimated by Vint Siegel, chairman of the circus committee that there will be six thousand children there to see the show, which is made up of 22 circus acts.

Many Horses
Among which will be the famous Isabella Liberty horses, eight buckskin purebred horses trained and presented by Buck Owens, former western screen star; Borghild Alberts the Girl from Norway, America's outstanding Thrill artist; Altamir Niquette the foremost lady aerial gymnast; the famous Miller family, all from Missouri in a thrilling acrobatic performance, and of course the laugh provoking antics of Bobo and Corby Frasier, top Ringling and Roger Bros. clowns.

Ponies and trained dogs of all sizes and descriptions will be presented by Ted LaVella and Freda Cristine.

The V.F.W. have also announced that there will not be any reserved seats, first come, first served, one ticket takes you all the way. Parents may bring the smaller children under school age to the Saturday performance and all the children will be admitted free.

Gritty Ben Hogan Acclaimed P.G.A. 'Golfer of the Year'

CHICAGO, Nov. 1—(AP)—Ben Hogan, 1950's gallant comebacker, today was voted the P.G.A.'s "Golfer of the Year."

Hogan was named 112 times in overwhelming support by 173 sports writers and radio sportscasters voting in the third annual Professional Golfers Association poll. Sam Snead, the 1949 award winner, was second, 43 votes behind the little Texan.

Hogan and Snead were far ahead of any other candidates. Ballots also were cast for Lloyd Mangrum, Jim Ferrier, Jimmy Demaret, Jack Burke, Jr., Dick Metz, Henry Ransom and Chandler Harper.

Comeback Wins Public's Fancy

Hogan's comeback from a near-fatal auto accident captured the golfing public fancy as nothing had done since Bobby Jones' grand slam. Last January, less than a year after a mishap, Hogan picked the Los Angeles Open to begin his campaign. After a 73 in the opening round, he fired three consecutive 69's to tie Snead for the title.

The following week he played in the Bing Crosby Invitational, then returned to Los Angeles for an 18-hole playoff with Sam. The leg-weary Hogan could muster only a 76 to Sam's 72.

Hogan next played in the Phoenix open then went to the Masters at Augusta, where he finished fourth. Later at Greenbrier, Hogan shot rounds of 64-64-65-66 and tied the P.G.A. 72-hole record of 259. Next he picked off third place in the Colonial meet at Fort Worth.

Hogan climaxed his comeback by winning the National Open. The gritty little pro authored rounds of 72-69-72-74—287 over the rugged Merion course to gain a three-way deadlock with Man-grum and George Fazio. In the playoff, he carved a 69 to win by four strokes.

Since the Open, Hogan has played in only two tournaments, finishing 11th in each. He now is in Hollywood supervising the filming of his life, "Follow the Sun."

Presentation of "Golfer of the Year" award will be made at the President's dinner at the P.G.A. annual meeting in Chicago Nov. 13. Hogan won the honor in its first year, 1943.

Reliance for M. U., to be on Its Passers

Cornhuskers of Nebraska to be Met Saturday

By Jerry Sullivan

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—(P)—A couple of passing quarterbacks may settle the issue Saturday when the Nebraska Cornhuskers collide with the Missouri Tigers.

Missouri's Phil Klein and Nebraska's Fran Nagle are the aerial artists who may paint the Big Seven conference title pictures for their teams.

Both teams are still threats to defending champion Oklahoma. But Saturday's loser can kiss goodbye any championship hopes.

The Tigers have a tie with Iowa State on their record already and the Huskers lost in an upset to Colorado earlier in the season.

Both Klein and Nagle had good days last week-end. Klein connecting on nine out of 10 passes attempted against Oklahoma A. & M. and Nagle hitting four out of five against Kansas.

Both are seniors and each is his team's top passer this season. Klein's passes, so far, have accounted for 292 yards against Nagle's 260. Klein is more accurate, hitting 24 of 36 attempts while Nagle has connected 20 times in 53.

Nagle's passing, however, isn't Nebraska's prime offensive weapon. Bobby Reynolds, fleet sophomore halfback who has racked up 12 touchdowns already, is the Huskers' No. 1 threat and Nagle's passing only loosens up the defense for him.

Gains Through Air

Missouri relies a little more heavily on Klein's passing and that of his backfield mates Ed Stephens and John Glorioso. So far this season about a third of the yardage the Tigers have gained has come through the air. The Missouri-Nebraska rivalry is one of the oldest in the midlands, beginning in 1892 when Nebraska won 6-0. The Huskers have won 24 games in the series and the Tigers have won 16. There were three ties. In recent years the edge has been all Missouri's. Beginning in 1941 Missouri has won every year except 1944.

Nebraska scrimmaged yesterday and Missouri Coach Don Faurot announced Stephens, a halfback, would move into the fullback spot for the Tigers. Bill Houston, Missouri fullback, is still under dental treatment for the tooth he lost last week against Oklahoma A. & M.

Getting ready for another conference game, Iowa State worked on pass defense and Kansas State scrimmaged after drilling on pass defense against Iowa State plays. The two teams meet Saturday at Manhattan, Kas.

Oklahoma fullback Leon Heath, sidelined last week with an injury, will be ready to go again Saturday against Colorado but the Buffs had sadder news. Coach Dallas Ward said wingbacks Woody Shelton, who sprained an ankle last week against Utah, and Freddie Johnson, bothered with a trick knee, aren't in shape for the game at Boulder.

Kansas, only Big Seven team playing outside the conference this week, ran through offensive and defensive scrimmage getting ready for Saturday's game with Utah university at Salt Lake City.

Moomaw Is Top Lineman

By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(P)—Down Moomaw, 18-year-old sophomore center at UCLA, was selected today as this week's line-man of the week in the Associated Press poll.

The 6-04, 215-pound youth from Santa Ana, Calif., is the first sophomore to gain the award since Blaine Eaton, of Duke, earned the nod last year. Moomaw's work against Purdue brought him this week's award.

Moomaw threw Purdue backs for losses five times at critical spots, intercepted one pass, and altogether played his sixth consecutive outstanding game.

Runnerup in the balloting was Bob Gain, 230-pound Kentucky tackle, for his versatile play against Georgia Tech. Among other feats, the lad from Wierton, W. Va., became the first player to block a Tech punt in three years.

Bob Ward, 181-pound Maryland guard, played another whaling game, this time against Duke, and once again came in for high praise. He stopped two Duke attacks inside the Maryland five-yard line and on the last play of game rushed Duke's forward passer off balance. This led to an interception and a 45-yard touchdown run for Maryland.

Don Menasco, Texas end, gained laurels in the southwest for his fine play against Rice. Blair Cherry: "It was the greatest performance I believe I have ever seen. He was terrific. Menasco has been great for some time, but had

Labor Shortage In Cotton Area

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 1.—(P)—A critical labor shortage has helped to slow down Missouri's cotton harvest, the state employment security division reported Tuesday.

It estimated only about 30 per cent of the 280,000 bale crop has been picked.

A late season delayed the start of picking until the second week of October, about 20 days later than usual. Field reports indicate picking probably will continue into January.

Normally, Missouri growers hire hundreds of migrant farm families moving into the south and southwest from the vegetable fields of the Great Lakes area. But this year the Missouri cotton crop was late and most of the migrants moved on to areas where they could get work at once.

The division said the labor situation has improved somewhat in the last few days. Cotton picking is finished in Alabama and some workers are being brought from there by bus and truck.

The estimated Missouri crop this year is less than 60 per cent of the 488,000 bales harvested in 1949.

Arabs Leave Israel

TEL AVIV.—(P)—Seventy-five Arab families from Majdal (the Arab quarter of the Southern Israel village Midgal Gad) left in 17 lorries for Gaza in the Egyptian held coastal strip of the Holy Land. Those who left have volunteered to do so, because they have friends or relatives in the Gaza area whom they want to join.

They were allowed to take their belongings with them. The 20,000 Israel pounds that they had with them were exchanged by Anglo-Palestina Bank officials into silver money issued by the former British Mandatory Government of Palestine.

Partition Suit By Heck Heirs

Alva J. Heck today filed suit in circuit court against Pansy, Ofa, Margaret, James and Joseph Heck asking partition of approximately 500 acres of land, including several improved suburban tracts southwest of Sedalia. D. S. Lamm is attorney for plaintiff.

The petition states that plaintiff and defendants are equal owners of the several farms, having acquired them from their father and mother, James A. Heck and Caroline Heck, who died in 1931 and 1933, and asks the court, if it finds the lands cannot be divided, to order the farms sold and the proceeds divided.

Miss Leek currys, feeds, waters, exercises and rubs horses. If help is needed, she takes pitch fork and shovel for a clean-up detail.

She works out the Hill horses every day and then gets in time for a brisk session with Mother's Mink, a mare her father gave her for Christmas.

Mrs. Leek's stock answer to the question, "What do you want for Christmas?" had for years been, "Oh, a mink coat."

Sally had been wishing on a star for a horse of her own since she first clambered up on a pony's back. So her parents, as a kind bonus for the help she was giving around the barn, bought her a horse.

Christmas morning Papa Leek told her to go to the barn, and when she wanted to know what to get there, he replied, "Your mother's mink." Then and there Sally's darling was christened, and at horse shows now Mother's Mink is a familiar name and the sleek bay mare and Sally are stiff competition in hunting classes.

When she finishes high school, Sally wants to take a veterinary course at the University of Minnesota Agriculture School.

"There might be some feeling about hiring a girl to train horses," reasons pretty blond Sally Leek. "But I figure if I'm a vet, too, I'll have a better chance at a job."

"Anyway, I'd like to know how to help horses if they're sick."

At 16 she's far from an amateur at it.

Sally was practically raised in a barn. Her father, Leslie Leek, has trained horses in Minnesota's Lake Minnetonka area for years, managed the Meadow Lake Polo club at Wayzata.

Sally was going hell-bent-for-leather astride a pony when other kids her age were being venture some on tricycles. At 10 she was copping ribbons and cups at horse shows.

Last summer her father injured his back, couldn't take hunters over jumps. Sally stepped in to help, trained two green hunters owned by Louis W. Hill, J., grandson of the famed Empire Builder, James J. Hill, for the Woodhill Horse Show at Orono Lake, the biggest of its kind in this section.

Little Miss Leek is still on the job. Last fall, Father Leek took over the Hill stable, and the family moved to the fabulous Hill farm, North Oaks, 4000 acres of fields, woods and two lakes—a little village in itself—near White Bear, only about a half hour's ride from the St. Paul loop. There are three circles of riding trails extending 100 miles.

Miss Leek is a sophomore at the White Bear school. When the bus drops her at the North Oaks gate, she rushes home, climbs into jeans, is off to the barn.

"She won't help around the house, but there's nothing she won't do around the barn," complains her mother.

Miss Leek currys, feeds, waters, exercises and rubs horses. If help is needed, she takes pitch fork and shovel for a clean-up detail.

She works out the Hill horses every day and then gets in time for a brisk session with Mother's Mink, a mare her father gave her for Christmas.

Mrs. Leek's stock answer to the question, "What do you want for Christmas?" had for years been, "Oh, a mink coat."

Sally had been wishing on a star for a horse of her own since she first clambered up on a pony's back. So her parents, as a kind bonus for the help she was giving around the barn, bought her a horse.

Christmas morning Papa Leek told her to go to the barn, and when she wanted to know what to get there, he replied, "Your mother's mink." Then and there Sally's darling was christened, and at horse shows now Mother's Mink is a familiar name and the sleek bay mare and Sally are stiff competition in hunting classes.

When she finishes high school, Sally wants to take a veterinary course at the University of Minnesota Agriculture School.

"There might be some feeling about hiring a girl to train horses," reasons pretty blond Sally Leek. "But I figure if I'm a vet, too, I'll have a better chance at a job."

"Anyway, I'd like to know how to help horses if they're sick."

At 16 she's far from an amateur at it.

Arabs Leave Israel

TEL AVIV.—(P)—Seventy-five Arab families from Majdal (the Arab quarter of the Southern Israel village Midgal Gad) left in 17 lorries for Gaza in the Egyptian held coastal strip of the Holy Land. Those who left have volunteered to do so, because they have friends or relatives in the Gaza area whom they want to join.

They were allowed to take their belongings with them. The 20,000 Israel pounds that they had with them were exchanged by Anglo-Palestina Bank officials into silver money issued by the former British Mandatory Government of Palestine.

Partition Suit By Heck Heirs

Alva J. Heck today filed suit in circuit court against Pansy, Ofa, Margaret, James and Joseph Heck asking partition of approximately 500 acres of land, including several improved suburban tracts southwest of Sedalia. D. S. Lamm is attorney for plaintiff.

The petition states that plaintiff and defendants are equal owners of the several farms, having acquired them from their father and mother, James A. Heck and Caroline Heck, who died in 1931 and 1933, and asks the court, if it finds the lands cannot be divided, to order the farms sold and the proceeds divided.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baslee, of Spring Fork, held open house on Sunday afternoon from 2:00 until 6:00 o'clock at their farm home on Highway 65 in celebration of their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary. There were approximately 100 guests present.

A program was presented by the following: cornet solo, Charles Pace; Mrs. Mattie Myers presented an interesting prologue of the dairy of Frances and Henry. School days were acted out by four former pupils of the school, former pupils of the school, Mr. New, J. D., Evalena, Tootie and Johnny Shipp, while a quartet composed of Mrs. Homer Carter, Jr., Mrs. Otis McNew and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Baslee, sang, "School Days" and "I Never See Maggie Alone." Mrs. Otis McNew played the wedding march and the bride and groom marched in followed by an old friend, Mr. Ab Sands of Sedalia, who attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Baslee. Mr. Sands presented a scripture lesson and prayer after which he made some personal remarks about the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Baslee.

Mrs. Myers resumed her review of the dairy of the years of Frances and Henry which was followed by a poem, "It Takes a Heap of Living to Make a House a Home," by Mrs. Lucille White. A trio composed of Mrs. Homer Carter, Jr., Mrs. Harold Lee Baslee and Mrs. Otis McNew sang, "Tell Me Why" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

The home was decorated with garden flowers presented by friends. The dining table was centered with a three tier wedding cake, three feet long and two and one half feet wide, topped with wedding bells. Favors were mint cups decorated with pink rosebuds. Wedding cake and ice cream punch was served the guests following the program. Mr. and Mrs. Baslee received many attractive and useful gifts.

H. W. Fritts, 507 East Tenth street, was honored Sunday with a dinner at his home in observance of his birthday anniversary.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brownfield, of Marshall; Mrs. Della Cordry, of Pilot Grove; Mrs. Cora Clark, Booneville; Orel Fritts, St. Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ellis and children, Mary Maude and Lawrence, Marshall; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Tavenner and son, Morris Clark, Slater; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brownfield, Donald and Darlene, of Malta Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stanger and children, Cora Louise and Carol Jean, of Booneville; Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, of Springfield; Mrs. Helen Hastings and daughter, Carol Evans, of Stockton; Mrs. Dessie Fritts and sons, Guy Wofens and Charles of Fair Play; Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Barnes and daughter, Wanda Jewell, Columbia; Leonard Platties of Manta Bend and Mrs. H. W. Fritts.

Revival be Held At Houstonia

The Houstonia Baptist church will start a two weeks revival meeting Nov. 5, services to continue through Nov. 19. Services will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock, with the exception of Friday evening, Nov. 10. This exception is made to avoid a conflict with the school play to be given at the high school. Prayer services are to be held each evening at 7:15 o'clock.

The Rev. Lynn T. Richardson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Slater, Mo., will be the guest evangelist. Clay Killian, Jr., will be in charge of the music.

G.O.P. Rally at Hubbard School

A Republican rally will be held tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Hubbard high school, with Charles E. "Lefty" Robinson, of Jefferson City, as the principal speaker.

The Hubbard high school band, under the direction of Prof. C. H. Moten, will play.

Carl Schneider will introduce the candidates.

Casting for Play Is Completed

Miss Gloria Joy Jenkins will play the part of "Liz Imbrie" in "The Philadelphia Story," according to an announcement by the director, Mrs. Ted Gardner, at a meeting of the Community Playhouse on Wednesday night at the V. F. W. hall. Miss Jenkins replaces Mrs. Florence Long, who was forced by illness to withdraw from the cast. Miss Jenkins studied dramatics and speech in William Crisman high school at Independence, and during her college days at Drury College in Springfield, appeared in a leading role in "Junior Miss," as well as taking part in other plays.

Casting is complete for the play, which is to be the second of the season by the Playhouse, and rehearsals are in progress for the December 5-6 presentation.

Mrs. Ed Ringen, properties manager, announced that she had appointed Miss Alice Carson, Miss Anita Self and Ed Ringen as her assistants.

The following Playhouse members presented a playlet at Abell school on Monday night for the Eastern Star: Lawrence M. Riley, Jim Green, Frank F. Evans, Bob Younger, C. E. Alden and Mrs. Ted Gardner. Mrs. C. E. Alden was in charge of preparing the skit.

Approve Airport Bonds Issue

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 1.—(P)—A $50,000 bond issue for expansion of the Poplar Bluff airport was approved by 700 to 308 vote at a special election yesterday.

The state is obligated to place $10,000 into the fund and the federal government has allocated funds to match the total, which will give the city $20,000 to spend in modernizing the airport. Poplar Bluff is on the Ozarks Airline feeder route and will become one of the stops as soon as the airfield is ready for use.

Pat Dunn in Program at Church

Pat Dunn, an outstanding Kansas City singer, presented a program Sunday night at the Smithton Methodist church, sponsored by the Fidelis class of that church.

The program consisted of a selection of various type songs that ranged from hymns to humorous songs. Mr. Dunn opened his program with "Lord, Take My Hand" and closed it with "The Lord's Prayer."

Accompanying Mr. Dunn to Smithton were Mrs. Dunn and Newell Schaeffer.

Student Kills A Close Friend

PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 1.—(P)—A 17-year-old high school student shot and killed one of his best friends at nearby Franklin furnace last night while trying to scare off Halloween pranksters, Sheriff Burl E. Justice reported.

The victim was Joseph Brumfield, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brumfield. Sheriff Justice is holding Beecher Daniels, 17. No charge has been filed. Four other youths are being questioned.

The sheriff said Daniels told him he fired a shotgun out of his living room window without aiming when he thought Halloween pranksters were trying to overturn an outhouse.

Guards Quelling Insurrection

By James Fowler

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 1.—(P)—National Guardsmen continued to mop up resisting pockets of rebellious Nationalists today in the wake of a mounting death toll from the worst revolt in Puerto Rico's history.

Police put the number of dead at 33-23 Nationalists, nine policemen and one National Guardsman. They said 35 had been wounded in the outbreaks in 10 Puerto Rican centers.

Governor Luis Munoz Marin said the revolt by anti-United States rebels would be cleaned up in a day or two. He termed it a "conspiracy against democracy, helped by the Communists."

Police and guardsmen maintained a cordon around the San Juan home of the Nationalist leader, Pedro Albizu Campos. Shots fired from upstairs windows kept the troops at bay, but no arrest warrant has been issued for the 63-year-old rebel.

National guardsmen with planes and tanks yesterday drove the rebels from the two strongholds they had established in Jayuya and Utuado, neighboring towns 50 miles from San Juan. Reports continued last night, however, of scattered shootings in other parts of this U. S. island territory of 2,149,000 people in the Caribbean.

Has Miraculous Escape

Herman Norman (above), 41, a bridge worker and the father of eight children, is recovering at Los Angeles from burns suffered when a fiery shock of 66,000 volts of electricity short circuited through his body but failed to kill him. The mishap occurred when a swaying pile driver severed a power line. The electricity flashed down the pile driver, through a cable to a truck, and burst explosively just as Norman walked through a pool of shallow water. He was momentarily enveloped in flames but survived the shock. (AP WIREPHOTO)

CAUGHT IN THE DRAFT—William D. Maloney, Jr., 3, of Green Island, N. Y., inspects his father's old Army garrison hat for size after receiving notice of his draft classification from the local draft board. Bill okayed his parents' offer of a pre-induction party but he was leery about reporting for active duty until the embarrassed draft board got around to admitting its mistake.

Travelers Visit People

NEW YORK—(P)—A British travel expert says more Americans are going to Europe to meet "and try to understand" other people than to visit buildings, cities and countries. "This new concept of travel," he said, "is one of the few very healthy signs in a very troubled world."

ish Travel Association, credited press magazine and radio writers with teaching Americans that it is people rather than countries alone that are "worth visiting."

A House For College

HARTFORD, Conn.—(P)—Two Yale students are continuing their work this year because they built a house last summer. Both want to be architects. But in their building project they also learned about some of the hard work that goes into house building. Profits from sale of the house pay their way at Yale this year.

Dave Travers and Julian Kulski are both married. The Kulskis have a daughter born last March. Their home was built at Meriden, near here.

They said they got prompt co-operation from banks, material dealers and neighbors for their program. They did most of the work for themselves, but to finish it in two months they had to hire some workers.

SEOUL, Nov. 1—(P)—This capital city of Korea today is an enigma. Its people appear contented amid ruins such as few cities even in the path of war know.

Shots still ring out at night — and there is no explanation, only speculation. Business is moribund. The wheels of industry are idle. Too many cogs are missing.

The Reds abducted them — the technicians, mechanics and artisans on whose skill a city depends for its modern comforts.

President Rhee's secretary recently called a locksmith to open a safe jammed by Communists. After several days the locksmith telephoned:

"Mr. President, our safe expert was carried north by the fleeing Communists. We can find no other skilled safeman left in the city. The safe cannot be opened."

Ruin and devastation sit on the city like an oppressive monarch. Take a walk on downtown Seoul.

The vast majority of business buildings are nothing but four walls, gutted by Communist-set fires or burned out by American air and ground fire.

A photo shop is open for business but without film or printing paper.

Across an alley is a one-story building. A sign reads: "International Cultural Association of Korea." Fallen plaster has exposed the wooden skeleton; through it one sees a room barren except for a few benches and five venerable Koreans. They are seated — either absorbing invisible culture or merely resting.

Glassless Panes
Nearby is a glass shop — with glassless windowpanes.

Plastered on the wall of a ruined building is a poster: "Hail to the victory of U. N. forces."

Another brightens a blackened structure: It says, succinctly "Thanks, U. S. Marine Corps."

There is a hustle and bustle in the streets, but it is the stirring of restless people, not the

Pilot Killed in Air Show Crash

Charles Bailey, 31, of Madison, N. C., crashed in flames while completing a low-level maneuver in an air show at Norfolk, Va., municipal airport. tides and eddies of business activity.

Most merchants whose stores are open lack stocks and customers. They cannot make plans in the confusion that swirls in the wake of war.

Skeleton staffs report for duty each day. At night they make their way homewards without having had anything on desks except their heels.

Everything is not dead. Sidewalk vendors are plentiful. Their stands are stocked with cigarettes, chewing gum, candy and other items of unmistakable origin — the U. S. armed forces.

A few places show activity. A line queues up in front of a textile firm. Perhaps the wheels of the spinning industry will begin turning soon.

Another line has formed in front of a relief agency to get clothing.

United Nations officials, U. S. state department representatives, economic cooperation administration workers and military officers are seeking to restore the Korean economy.

But progress is slow; the pessimistic say it will be 20 years before Seoul returns to her pre-war condition.

Nevertheless, the citizens appear to be cheerful.

There is rice for today and enough for tomorrow and the next day. Perhaps there will be enough to last through the winter and into late spring.

Koreans hurry hither and yon through the ruins, exuding eagerness and optimism. They obviously trust the United Nations which liberated them from the harsh rule of Communism to restore their devastated land.

King George VI 'Loved' Movies

LONDON, Nov. 1—(P)—King George VI "loved" his night at the movies.

That's what Britain's monarch told Irene Dunne Monday night after the royal performance of "The Mudlark," in which she stars as queen Victoria, the king's great-grandmother.

A jam-packed crowd of 3,200 applauded loudly and enthusiastically for the film and an elaborate stage show featuring high jinks by top Hollywood and British stars.

The royal film performance is an annual event, with the proceeds going to the cinematograph trade benevolent fund.

The Hollywood stars were nervous as they waited their turns to be presented to the royal family. Hollywood celebrities included Gloria Swanson, Marlene Dietrich, James Stewart, Montgomery Clift, Tyrone Powe, June Haver and Claudette Colbert.

Want a ride that's "out of this world"?

Better Buy Buick!

WANT to be free from that nervous tensing up for a jolt every time a rough spot looms in the road ahead?

Want to enjoy the relaxing feel of a sure-footed car beneath you, that stays level even when the road doesn't?

Well, sir, ease into a Buick and see how such matters are cared for.

See what a wonderful difference in level buoyancy coil springs can make when you have them on all four wheels, not just the front ones.

Note what firm and solid steadiness is yours when a full-length torque-tube drive is your keel—how smoothly you stay on course when the rear wheels can't help but run true.

See what big, low-pressure tires and Buick's wide rims can do to pillow your course without jounce or sway.

In other words, sample this two-ton beauty for over-all stance and balance —and the cradling comfort of its roomy interiors.

And while you're at it, get the very special thrill of its mighty Fireball power plant, plus the free-as-a-bird-in-flight bliss of its Dynaflo Drive.*

It's an experience that you owe yourself—and it's yours for the asking. The thing to do is get in touch with your Buick dealer—and discover the ride that only Buick owners know.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.
